FIP Presentations

Professor Darrin Baines

Archived Conference Presentation Collection

Prepared as a permanent reference collection of archived conference presentation records.

Each presentation in this document links to its preserved Internet Archive Wayback Machine record, providing a stable and verifiable reference to the original conference abstract.

Prepared for the Darrin Baines digital archive.

Adherence prediction and other pharmacy services

Conference: FIP World Congress of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences 2016

Session: Big data: Beauty or beast?

Date: Thursday, 1 September 2016, 12:30–14:00

Location: Buenos Aires, Argentina

Presenter: Professor Darrin Baines (UK)

Type: Conference Presentation

Description

This archived record preserves the official conference abstract for Professor Darrin Baines' presentation, "Adherence prediction and other pharmacy services," delivered during the Big data: Beauty or beast? session at the 2016 FIP World Congress of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences in Buenos Aires, Argentina. The presentation explores the use of big data and predictive analytics to improve medication adherence and enhance the delivery of pharmacy services. It reflects the growing role of data-driven decision-making in modern pharmacy practice.

Archived Record

https://web.archive.org/web/20251211190538/https://www.fip.org//abstracts?action=item&item=17866

Archived Page Screenshot

Adherence prediction and other pharmacy services

- In: Big data: Beauty or beast? on Thursday, 1 September 2016, 12:30-14:00
- At: Buenos Aires (Argentina) (2016)
- Type: Presentation
- By: BAINES, Darrin (UK)

The access to the whole abstract and if available the presentation file is available to FIP members and to congress participants of that specific congress. Please login

The renaissance of community pharmacy: Is it time to let go of dispensing?

Conference: FIP World Congress of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences 2018

Session: The renaissance of community pharmacy: Is it time to let go of dispensing?

Location: Glasgow, Scotland

Year: 2018

Presenter: Professor Darrin Baines

Type: Conference Presentation / Panel Session

Description

This archived record preserves the official programme page for the session "The renaissance of community pharmacy: Is it time to let go of dispensing?" presented at the 2018 FIP World Congress of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences in Glasgow, Scotland. Professor Darrin Baines contributed to this international discussion on the future role of community pharmacy, including the impact of automation, health technology, and evolving pharmacist responsibilities.

Archived Record

https://web.archive.org/web/20251211194726/https://glasgow2018.fip.org/programme-session/the-renaissance-of-community-pharmacy-is-it-time-to-let-go-dispensing-d10/

Pharmacist as technologist: Educating pharmacists as compounders of modern technologies

Conference: FIP World Congress of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences 2017

Session: Smart learning: Dynamic integration of technology into education

Date: Thursday, 14 September 2017, 14:30–17:30

Location: Seoul, South Korea

Presenter: Professor Darrin Baines
(Bournemouth University, Accounting, Finance & Economics, United Kingdom)

Co-author: Professor Darrin Lloyd Baines

Type: Conference Presentation

Description

This archived record preserves the official conference abstract for Professor Darrin Baines' presentation, "Pharmacist as technologist: Educating pharmacists as compounders of modern technologies," delivered during the Smart learning: Dynamic integration of technology into education session at the 2017 FIP World Congress of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences in Seoul, South Korea. The presentation explores the evolving role of pharmacists in technology-enabled healthcare and the implications for pharmacy education and professional practice.

Archived Record

https://web.archive.org/web/20251211195448/https://www.fip.org//abstracts?action=item&item=18960

Archived Page Screenshot

Pharmacist as technologist: Educating pharmacists as compounders of modern technologies

- In: Smart learning: Dynamic integration of technology into education on Thursday, 14 September 2017, 14:30-17:30
- At: Seoul (South Korea) (2017)
- Type: Presentation
- By: BAINES, Professor Darrin (Bournemouth University, Accounting, Finance & Economics, Leominster, United Kingdom)
- Co-author(s): Professor Darrin Lloyd Baines
- Abstract:

Chemist and druggists entered the medical marketplace as specialists in medicines supply and compounding. As the modern age began, drug choices became more rational, more scientific. However, the rationalisation of medicines was not achieved through clinical trials or by the large-scale pharmaceutical industry. Most products were discontinued, or

..

The access to the whole abstract and if available the presentation file is available to FIP members and to congress participants of that specific congress. Please login

The role of professionals in a new technological era

Conference: FIP World Congress of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences 2019

Session: Gamification – The pharmacist as playmaster!

Date: Tuesday, 24 September 2019, 12:30–14:00

Location: Abu Dhabi, United Arab Emirates

Presenter: Professor Darrin Baines (Bournemouth University, UK)

Type: Conference Presentation

Description

This archived record preserves the official conference abstract for Professor Darrin Baines' presentation, "The role of professionals in a new technological era," delivered during the Gamification – The pharmacist as playmaster! session at the 2019 FIP World Congress of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences in Abu Dhabi, United Arab Emirates. The presentation examines how technological change is reshaping the roles of pharmacy professionals and the institutions that influence professional practice within modern healthcare. The 2019 FIP Congress focused on how emerging technologies are transforming pharmacy practice, education, and pharmaceutical sciences.

Archived Record

https://web.archive.org/web/20251211195642/https://www.fip.org//abstracts?action=item&item=22336

Archived Page Screenshot

The role of professionals in a new technological era

- In: Gamification - The pharmacist as playmaster! on Tuesday, 24 September 2019, 12:30-14:00
- At: AbuDhabi (United Arab Emirates) (2019)
- Type: Presentation
- By: BAINES, Darrin (Bournemouth University, UK)
- Abstract:

Pharmacists work within "institutions" that govern their behaviour. Institutions are the rules, norms, regulations and conventions that limit how the profession can behave. For instance, there are laws governing how pharmacists can interact with patients and the types of services they may provide. There are also rules governing how pharmacists may

..

The access to the whole abstract and if available the presentation file is available to FIP members and to congress participants of that specific congress. Please login

Last update 4 September 2025

The renaissance of community pharmacy

Conference: FIP World Congress of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences 2018

Session: The Renaissance of Community Pharmacy: Is it time to let go of dispensing?

Date: Thursday, 6 September 2018, 12:30–14:00

Location: Glasgow, Scotland

Presenter: Professor Darrin Baines (Bournemouth University, UK)

Co-author: Darrin Lloyd Baines

Type: Conference Presentation

Description

This archived record preserves the official conference abstract for Professor Darrin Baines' presentation, "The renaissance of community pharmacy," delivered during the session The Renaissance of Community Pharmacy: Is it time to let go of dispensing? at the 2018 FIP World Congress of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences in Glasgow, Scotland. The presentation examines how community pharmacy has evolved from traditional medicine compounding to modern dispensing services and considers the future direction of the profession within changing healthcare systems.

Archived Record

https://web.archive.org/web/20260331163203/https://www.fip.org//abstracts?action=item&item=20912

Archived Page Screenshot

The renaissance of community pharmacy

- In: The Renaissance of community pharmacy: Is it time to let go of dispensing? on Thursday, 6 September 2018, 12:30-14:00
- At: Glasgow (Scotland) (2018)
- Type: Presentation
- By: BAINES, Darren (Bournemouth University, UK)
- Co-author(s): Darrin Lloyd Baines
- Abstract:

Community pharmacy has long been the foundation stone of health systems worldwide. Traditionally, the service has been based upon direct, face-to-face relationships with patients. Over time, the relationship has evolved from the compounding of medicines by the individual pharmacists to the dispensing of manufactured drugs. In the process, the

Biography – Professor Darrin Baines

Conference: FIP World Congress of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences 2019

Location: Abu Dhabi, United Arab Emirates

Year: 2019

Record Type: Conference Biography / Speaker Profile

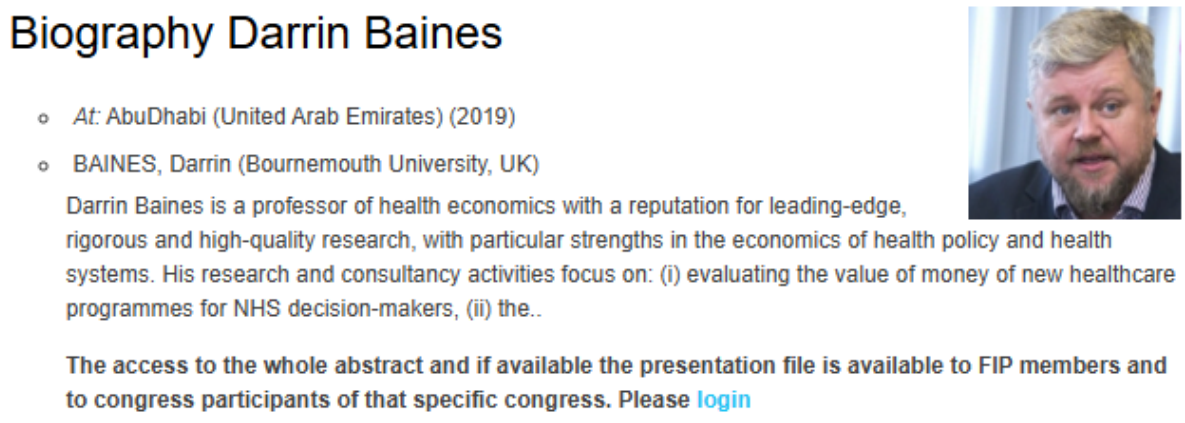
Description

This archived record preserves Professor Darrin Baines' official biography published as part of the 2019 FIP World Congress of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences in Abu Dhabi, United Arab Emirates. The profile summarizes his expertise in health economics, health policy, and health systems, highlighting his research, consultancy, and contributions to healthcare decision-making and NHS policy development. It serves as an official conference record of his professional background at the time of the event.

Archived Record

https://web.archive.org/web/20260331163603/https://p05.fip.org/abstracts?page=abstracts&action=item&item=21956

Archived Page Screenshot



Biography Darrin Baines

- At: AbuDhabi (United Arab Emirates) (2019)
- BAINES, Darrin (Bournemouth University, UK)

Darrin Baines is a professor of health economics with a reputation for leading-edge, rigorous and high-quality research, with particular strengths in the economics of health policy and health systems. His research and consultancy activities focus on: (i) evaluating the value of money of new healthcare programmes for NHS decision-makers, (ii) the..

The access to the whole abstract and if available the presentation file is available to FIP members and to congress participants of that specific congress. Please login